

Paul Dufresne TRAINING for COURAGE

YOUR EQUINE PARTNER SEARCH

The Search for an Equine partner can be exciting as you try to match your wish list against what a horse is possibly offering you. You can look at photos, read the descriptions, watch the videos (hopefully informative), then comes the tough questions. Is the horse a match for your level of leadership? Does your personality match up well with theirs? How much are you willing to invest in the learning curve of earning the leadership role in a relationship? Is the horse in your budget? Does a horse offer opportunities for you to try new things? I have found many of the happiest horse owners I see out there are those that have a diversified relationship with their horses - having fun first and then maybe dabbling in competition.

This revised Spring Sales sheet has the latest prices on these horses Although these video don't represent all these horses can do and have to offer at this time they give you a pretty good idea. If weather conditions improve I will be trying to take more updated videos as all of the horses have progressed since. If seriously interested contact me and I will see if I have them available.

Anyone interested has to understand these horses are always in training to improve. So they will be able to perform quite well assuming that the potential owners use some reasonable leadership skills. These horses have been exposed to all kinds of human environments but there are still some things out there that they have never seen or experienced before. Although they are quite good in new situations and environments, prospective owners have to learn to read them so they can tell when they are getting worried.

Too often people think their horse is pretty good and fail to take inventory on the horses emotions from minute to minute. What can easily happen is people compound stressors and then are surprised the horse acts out its concerns. If we keep using the relaxation cues these horses have been trained with they will likely be consistently reliable. So the question is how consistent can you be pay attention - because as leader, it's your responsibility.

All of these horses have a French Classical Foundation combined with solid Horsemanship as well as some endotapping to help ingrain some pretty strong relaxation cues. This makes the horses pretty forgiving of mistakes - mistakes we all will inevitably make.

If anyone is interested in any of these horses I would recommend a great way to get to really know them would be to come here to the Training for Courage Center in Kelowna for an intensive camp. You would get to play with assistance with the horse you're interested in as I train my other horses. This would not only improve your leadership and horsemanship skills but then you would get to know if that horse would be a good fit for you. I'll assist you in testing them and leading them correctly so you can get maximum enjoyment with them.

You can ride either Western or English and play on the trails in addition to other training. I generally spend at least a couple of hours helping folks get to know what these horses can do. Frankly, you have to learn whether you are a good lead for them by experimenting. Experimenting is always easier when it is guided. So even if we decide that a horse is not a suitable match you will have improved your horsemanship skills in the process as well as having a better idea how to check out another potential horse for your partnership in the future.

Of course if you have any questions or concerns please send them my way. Be aware I will be assessing your suitability for any horse at the same time because really, I want to help my horses find a great partnership as well. I will have the right to refuse to sell if I believe it to be in my horse's best interest.

Performance Gelding for sale, Price: $25,000.

This solid big boned wash & wear gelding is very low maintenance and healthy. He has absolutely the best traits of both breeds with many years left in him.

He moves like a Friesian but is more energetic and quick and more interactive like an Arabian. He has been used as a demo/performance horse with a big repertoire of skills as well as trail riding and swimming. Easy has helped a multitude of horses by ponying them or teaching stallions to not be aggressive and socialize.

You can groom him with blowers and trim his great feet with a grinder. He bows to mount, kneels, downs, has a great sit, climbs objects, Spanish Walk, Pesade, Rear, Piaffe, and decent start on Passage & Capriole. Walk/trot/canter with some CD/Vaquero and Western Dressage and can be ridden without tack. He's also developing great liberty skills and occasionally gets ridden by my dog So-She. Improving his flying leads. He has taught many people in seat lessons and has a fan club, he also is used as a back-up horse at camps in case I have to switch to help participants with their horse they would get to ride Easy

Easy has started performing with the Garrocha as well as working stock with it whether cows or aggressive horses. He has tons of attitude and personality to play with. This horse is better suited for a moderate-advanced leader with some confidence who wants a politely cheeky partner and who loves to try anything and everything. He would be competitive in WE, Cowboy Challenge, Mountain Trail, WD, or Dressage.

This horse has put a lot of smiles on peoples faces!

This slide show is very small compilation of what he does. So many moments have not been photographed. Mr. Versatile is looking for his forever dance partner who wants to keep on learning.

Sire Triumfador XXIV x Dam Grunona. (The breeding here was 5K US) Price is $14,000

Inego is being prepared to be an all around horse. He has nice movement with an expressive trot and a lofty canter.

He is currently developing social skills and can ride in the arena, farm, and orchard trails. He does have some Liberty skills. He's going to be great at liberty because he's so expressive.

He enjoys interaction with people, but they do have to act like the leader as he will test. His has a great re-call (he would make many people's dogs look bad). I trim his hooves with an electric grinder, groom with an electric or gas blower, pony him behind other horses or an ATV.

Right now he has 3 reasonable gaits and is learning to improving his transitions and lateral movements. He has 4 track shoulder-in, Travers, leg yield, half-pass, walking pirouette, roll backs, roll over and reaches at a walk, and learning to be better doing these at a trot.

He will be a natural at collected canter and will have a great pirouette as he has very nice elevated movement and is quite a natural at collected canter.

He is maturing quite nicely and is a handsome moving horse. He has been ridden in lessons by less experienced riders and doing well.

TAJO DOB: September 2011 15:1h unpapered Carthusian gelding. ALL INQUIRIES TO: tfcpauldufresne@gmail.com

Price is $12,000

Handsome Bay with copper highlights, big bodied, lots of bone, and some chrome. He is being re-homed for a client.

He has been used by participants at clinics and camps. Can ride any discipline but better suited for Cowboy/Western Dressage/Mountain Trail/Cowboy challenges as these are a good fit for him.

He is improving his WE riding skills working on his flying leads. He also has some basic liberty skills. He is hardy and quite low maintenance. Groomed and trimmed with power tools. Will pretty much tackle any props, swim, drag obstacles, and has ponied other horses as well as being ponied himself with other horses or ATV and bow to mount or hobble. He is a fairly low maintenance guy.

The video footage is not recent footage, since then his canter departures, transitions and trot has improved. Has improved all lateral movements and is more uphill. (I was hoping to do new video of him but conditions have not cooperated). This older video still shows him worthy of his price.

DANZA DOB: June 2018 Andalusian filly.

ALL INQUIRIES TO: tfcpauldufresne@gmail.com

Price is $15,000

Helena X Mystiques Padrino (my long time Exhibition stallion, you can check out his you tube videos).

Helena will likely start her show career this year and is a wonderful mare to ride.

This very elegant black filly has lofty light movement and will have her sires agility and hair! She will have beautiful gaits with very natural Passage. Forward but very tractable.

She is quite social but respectful. She has all the yields and can do balanced circles with ease, ponies with other horses or ATV, ties, trailers, grooms with blowers, trims feet ground tied with grinder. She has been introduced to all kinds of props which is great for this bright sensitive filly.

Her foundation at Liberty is also there. She has had a canter re-call at times since 3 month old.

This filly is a good babysitter for our 2019 colts and has been a very good big sister. This well proportioned filly should finish off around 16hh. Danza will be a head turner. If the riding boys go, she is staying!

JET BLACK ARSEN

ALL INQUIRIES TO: tfcpauldufresne@gmail.com

Barn name, "Samson". 6 year old black Friesian/Morgan cross, 15:1 hh, registered. Email for pricing.

A solid horse with good feet.

Very kind guy but has a worried side to him. He can do quite well and do just about anything with a person who doesn't get excited or anxious and has a reasonable lead.

If you can relax doing a single rein stop at a canter, he could be the horse for you.

He has never done anything dirty he is just shy but quite nice and has that Friesian reserved feel about him. He is coming out of his shell.

Has all the basic Classical Dressage skills. Frames nicely and can do the lateral moves. 3 simple gaits and some basic Liberty.

Ties, loads, ponies, trims feet with electric grinder, grooming with blower, ground ties, trail obstacles, multiple bridges, creeks, ... typical TFC horse skills.

Assessing his status now with tune-ups in his training. Email if interested.
